

Stick it Out

Written by Delores A. Hampton
Sunday, 29 September 2013 13:43

Sometimes the job you do truly seems inspired
You go far away and over
what simply is required;
Other times you have to push
just to get it done
And hate your work and wish to do something that's more fun.
That's when your truest character
rises to the top like cream—
Will you decide to stick it out or race off toward a dream?
You might as well just stick around;
it doesn't matter where you go;
Some days are purely wonderful and others just "so, so."