A famous American businessman bought a large insurance policy on himself. It was so large that the newspapers carried the story. One of the businessman's friends, an insurance agent, asked why he didn't buy the policy from him since he was a personal friend. The businessman replied, "You never asked me."

Could it be that some of our neighbors would attend church services or Sunday school if we just asked them? Is it possible that someone will never accept Christ because we never asked them?

Be sure to take time to tell others the good news of Jesus and his salvation.
